Foreword

THE STARTING of a tradition is an easy matter. The carrying on of a tradition sometimes entails labor that sinks to the level of drudgery. Happy is that institution that has in its student body a group of individuals who can make tradition maintenance a service of joy rather than drudgery. We congratulate the members of the Editorial Board of the 1946 INDIANHEAD on their having made their labor a joyful service.

Dedication

IN THIS, our first year of peace, following the greatest war of all time; it is fitting that we dedicate these pages to the memory of those who have attended our College and have also served our country on the seas, on land, under the seas, and in the air.

In Memoriam

WE HAVE not felt the Hand of War very heavily upon our Alma Mater, for that we can be thankful. Pembroke State's sons have answered the call of duty sounded by their country, and they have responded nobly.

Some of her number will never return and it is in commemoration of them that we dedicate these pages. These gallant ones died that we might live and that freedom might live with us. It is our solemn pledge to keep faith with each one of them and to prove ourselves worthy of their sacrifice.

TIME PASSES and as we reach the top, we pause to look back. War has taken its toll and our class has been reduced accordingly. Only one of the original boys has been permitted to stay and finish with us, although two have gone to war and returned; making three to graduate this June. As we look back over the other classes we see many of those who might have been with us, so with best wishes and a heartfelt wish for your attaining the same high goal we say, so-long to college days and may success crown your every effort.

Departments

LIBRARY

Pembroke State College Library consists of 11, 275 volumes. The College Library subscribes for over 100 weekly or monthly magazines and six daily or weekly newspapers. The Library has grown so much the past year that an extension had to be added to its stack rooms.

On the Staff, in addition to the Librarian, are three Student Assistants: Miss Etha Cummings, Miss Gladys Oxendine, and Miss Pearlie Locklear.

SCIENCE

There are two classroom-laboratories at Pembroke State College. One is used for Biology and Chemistry, the other for Physics and a variety of uses. These rooms are being equipped with more and better apparatus each year. Several students are majoring in the Sciences, and there are blue prints for a Science Building to replace these two classrooms. At present, Johnny Lee Locklear is the One and Only Laboratory Assistant. Next year two should be needed.

This picture shows part of Room 3, used for Biology and Chemistry.

COMMERCE

The Commercial Department of the College offers courses in business to students who wish to make Business a Career, or to those wishing it as an aid in other fields or for personal use. In addition to a knowledge of Business facts, the aim of the course is practical training in business methods.

Some of the subjects offered are: Typing, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business English, and Business Organization.

FINE ARTS

Fine Arts teaches us the relationships of line, color and form in such a way that we appreciate the niceties of life. We learn through different media in two and three dimensions. Our study takes us through nature, in the form of plants, animals, landscapes and the human figure.

CRAFTS

In crafts, we learn block printing, stencil work, metal work, braiding, etc. The most fascinating part of crafts, is that of weaving on the six large looms. The products range from rugs, through dress materials, curtains, and baby blankets. Pottery work is in its infancy but will increase rapidly, now that we have a new electric kiln. The year of 1945-46 has seen an increase in the growth of the art department to where it is necessary to have a student assistant.

Orchestra

MUSICAL ACTIVITIES

The Department of Music at Pembroke State College has shown a marked growth in the last few years; until at present it occupies a very important place in the College. Its importance lies in its performance of educational functions and its provision for extra-curricular activities.

The purposes of the Music Department are to give the students a more complete understanding of the science and art of music; and to prepare teachers of Public School Music. It also encourages all students to develop a taste for good music.

An Artist Series is sponsored each year by Pembroke State bringing to the Campus outstanding Artists of Instrumental and vocal music. In addition Faculty and Student Recitals are given each year.

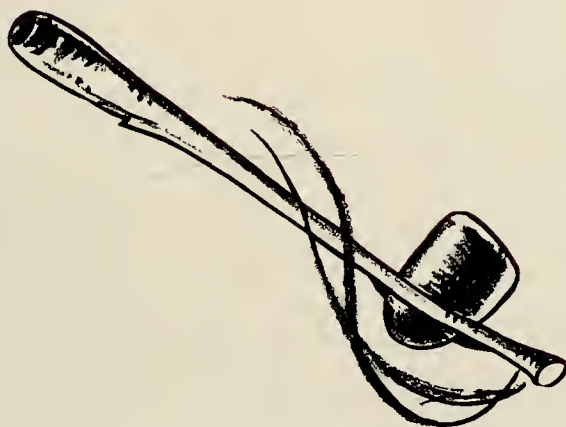

STRING QUARTET

The String Quartet has entertained at several formal teas held on the campus and appeared on the commencement program of 1945 held in the college auditorium.

COLLEGE BAND

Newly organized on the Campus is the College Band which appeared at the basketball games during the 1945-46 season.

Sports

Gymnasium

The College Gymnasium, a spacious building, modern in all details, was erected during the session of 1938-39 by the Public Works Administration. This building has a seating capacity of one thousand persons, and meets all requirements for indoor athletic sports and classes in physical education.

It contains dressing rooms, showers, and lockers, for men and women. All the Indian High Schools of the County hold an Annual Basketball Tournament in the Gym. The All-Indian Pageant, "The Life History of a People," was presented here annually prior to World War II.

Basketball at Pembroke State College started its postwar climb this year and promises much in the future. The team this year started as almost a complete veteran team; but as the season progressed the freshmen and the returning veterans, who had played in past years, changed the complexion of the team. Competition for places on the team became keen for the first time in four years. Next year's basketball team should show more promise than this team, as all who were playing at the close of the season, with the exception of Danford Dial and those who will be entering the Armed Services will be here to answer the starting whistle next year.

The regular season was very successful, from the won-and-lost point of view, as the team developed a habit of winning games in the last minute or two. The team won seven of its regular season games, most of them by narrow margins.

Girls' basketball, at Pembroke State, is in its infancy, as this is the first year that any other colleges have been scheduled. The team showed much spirit and improved rapidly during the year. The win and loss column was not quite what we had hoped for but we are looking forward to a better team next year. The girls that played this year will all be back, and we are looking forward to some freshmen that have played basketball in high school.

PEMBROKE STATE COLLEGE, THEN AND NOW

It is a far cry from the two-story building of 1887, with out one instructor, to the present-day college with its eighteen faculty members and its student body of youth and those who are not so young, those returning from the war and coming back for further training. The story of the progress of Pembroke State College might well be called the saga of Indian education in eastern North Carolina. Its story is the story of progress from the school that started as a normal school of practically beginners' level to that of the present when a large number of students are taking advantage of the privilege of finishing a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree in a number of Major areas.

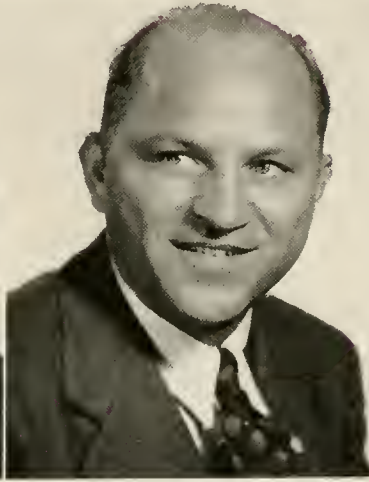

From a one-acre campus, with a two-room building, the mechanical assets of the college have increased to that of eleven buildings and residences, scattered over a thirty-five acre campus. Pembroke State College boasts of one of the finest gymnasiums in the Carolinas. A baseball park with bleachers to seat 400 is another asset of note, in this clime where baseball may be played from April through November. It is never too wet, unless it is raining at game time. Other spots of interest are the rows of Poplars, Long leaf pines, and another of magnolias.

To you who have seen the virgin pine back of main, we cannot add words to enhance their beauty and to those of you who have not had this experience, it would be difficult for us to describe their grandeur in mere words. You may get some idea as to their beauty by looking at the pictures in this book, but let us add a few words in a feeble attempt to give you the feeling that one gets as he sees these trees for the first time. One feels as little as the ant feels when he sees man's foot falling gently toward the earth, with his small body in the middle. One feels that man's efforts at description and accomplishment and beggared by this creation of the master hand that shaped the universe. All man's efforts to make things of symmetrical form and his efforts at creating things of beauty seem but feeble as one gazes upon these majestic giants of the forest. One feels that he has shrunk a little in stature when gazing at these giants without limbs until they reach a majestic height above the earth.

WE HAVE BEEN BEWILDERED and confused more times than we care to mention during these past months, but it has been worth all that and more. With the aid and advice of Dr. Kennedy and Wm. Oliver Smith of the Edwards & Broughton Co. our printers, we have at last completed the work on our first annual. Now that the book is completed we can look back on those days and smile, because it is all over and our job is finished. The only thing worrying us now is how each of you like the finished product. We are keeping our fingers crossed on that score and perhaps the gods will be on our side. This book is for you and about you—we sincerely hope the representation meets with your approval.

The 1946 INDIANHEAD extends a warm welcome to all of those Veterans upon their release from the Armed Forces that have entered Pembroke State College.

Yes, Reddy Kilowatt is a mighty man. One kilowatt of electricity is equal to one and one-third horsepower—but what is more important is what it can do for you. Electrical cooking, refrigeration, lighting, washing, ironing, and all the other tasks electricity does in your home take very little horsepower . . . but they are mighty valuable to the comfort and convenience of your everyday life.

Use your electric to the fullest extent . . . enjoy things electricity can do for you.
